Honors to the President En Route From Atlanta.

ilis Reception at Danville-Greeted by a Big Crowd-Cadets Fire a Salute-At Lynchburg-Charlottesville Disappointed.

DANVILLE, VA., October 24.—(Special.) The train from Atlanta with President Cleveland and members of his Cabinet aboard arrived in Danville this afternoon at 1:45 o'clock.

There were on its arrival at least 1,500 people at the depot, among them the City Council, city officials, and many ladies. The young lady students of the Roanoke Female College were present in a body. As the train came to a bait General Passenger Agent Turk was the first to emerge from the rear car. Some one sang out, "There's Grover," when a cheer rent the air. Mr. Turk bowed his acknowledgement and gracefully retired. Mr. Cleveland then came out of the car on the platform, followed by his Cabinet members, and a thighty cheer went up. The President then came down from the car platform, and standing on the lower step, spent ten minutes in shaking hands with the throng.

shaking hands with the throng.

The cadets of the Danville Military Institute were drawn up in line near
the railroad, about a mile from the depot,
and when the train was sighted a sainte
of twenty-one guns was fired.

The President got out on the platform and recognized the honer by waving he handkerchief. The train pulled out for Washington amid the cheers and waving of handkerchiefs of the assembled hundreds.

the President.

LYNCHBURG, VA., October 24President Cleveland passed through Lynchburg to-day, and a big crowd turned out to see both the head of our National Government and his fine train.

The presidential train arrived at 3:20,
and was cheered by the crowd. As soon as possible a line was forbact, and several hundred people shook hands with the President. General Fitzhoga Lee was one of the first, and was invited to a place enthe platform, which was filled with Cabinet officers. Some enthissistic admitters of Secretary Carliele caused him out and shook hands with him. After a stop of five minutes, and after the line of handshakurs had passed, the train public out, amid enthusiastic cheers from the crowd.
Although it was not generally known that the President would pass through this afternoon, a crowd began to assemble x, the depot some time before the arrival of the train.

MANY DISAPPOINTED. The President's Special Ahead of the Time Announced.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., October 21 (Special.)-Hundreds of people from Char-lottesville and the University of Virginia were disappointed this afternoon in no eeing President Cleveland and party a they parsed through here en route f Washington. Notice had been given th Washington. Notice had been given that the special train would arrive at fails whereas it pulled in at 5.08. About 28 persons were at the states, many of whom shook hands with the Prisdent, who stood on the platform of the rail coach. The students gave him the famous university yell, which he seemed to enjoy. He was not called on for a speech. Engines were changed here, the train remaining eight minutes. Large crowds flocked to the station after the train had departed.

Feeding Stock-They Surrendered Him-Painfully Shot.

SPOTSYLVANIA, VA., October 24. (Special)-The dry weather still continues, and in view of the shortage in pasturage farmers have commenced to feed their and in view of the shocker in pactage farmers have commenced to feel their stock, a thing hitherto unknown at this season in this county. This must, of necessity, bring much of suffering and scarcity of food for stock next spring, as the crops of all kinds are short, and feeding has commenced a month earlier than heretefore.

Joseph Alsop, a colored man, who is indicted for malicious assault, was indeed in our county jail a few days ago. Alsop was bailed at the last term of our County Court to appear at the November term next, but his bondsmen learned of his intention to run of, and they caught him and surrendered him to the jailer for safe-keeping.

Disease, We refer to DR. DAVID'S IODO-FERRATED SARSAPARILLA,

Death of a Prominent Farmer.

«CAPE CHARLES, VA., October 21—
(Special.)—Mr. William H. Collingham, one of the oldest and most prominent farmers of Northampton county, died hast night at his home, Bayview, Va., about three miles from here, of rhoumatic gout, Mr. Collingham was 65 years old, and had always been a resident of the Eastern Shore of Virginia. He accumulated quite a fortune during his life, and leaves a valuable estate, which is willed to his wife, who survives him. Pr. Garland P. Moore, of this city, is a nephew of the deceased. His remains will be interred in the family buying-ground on one of his farms, near Bayview, Va. "The Blood Cle n er." Sufferers with that "fatigued sensation"—always tired, listless, and lifeless—will find Dr. David's Sarsaparilla the greatest tonic and builder up of the system known. It makes new and rich red blood, which, in turn, gives life and vigor to its possessor.

It is not a stimulating tonic merely, but a pure blood-maker, and hence a health and strength giver.

Nine people out of ten at this season need a blood purifier and tonic to give the health and strength to throw off the malaria that is sapping the very life from their constitutions. If you feel tired, languid, and careless about what is going on around you, you need a tonic alterative, and you need it badly. A single bottle of DR, DAVID'S SARSAPA-RILLA will so improve you that you will at once begin to feel that life is worth living, and that Dr. David's Sarsara-RILLA is just the thing to make you well

BERRYVILLE, VA., October 21.-(Spe cial.)-Services were held here yesterday at the Baptist church to pray for rain.

The stores and the banks and other public buildings closed-from 10:30 to 12 o'clock, and persons of all classes attended and took part in the services. The drought now prevailing is by far the worst ever known in this section, and the suffering and loss consequent is very great.

There is quite a good deal of malarial and typhoid-fever in the county, which is attributed to the impurity of the water, produced by the drought.

ENTERING THE CHURCH.

The bridal party entered in the following order: First the four ushers, Messrs, James Murray and Russell A. Jones, of Baltimore, and Arthur Worthington, of Boanoke, and John B. Neill, of Berryville, wearing ful dress, with boatomicres of white crysanthemums, and then the two little flower girls, Misses Edith and Genevieve Myers, nicees of the groom, dressed in white organdle and carrying houquets of carnations. Immediately following these came the maid of honor, Miss Lucy Deanl, sister of the bride, robed in white organdle over sath and carrying La France roses, and then the bride, leaning on her father's arm, and looking lovely by a handsome gown of white satin trimmed with chiffon and lace. The vell of white tulle was looped with orange blossoms, and she carried bride's roses. ENTERING THE CHURCH. Pretty Wedding of Popular Couple FREDERICKSBURG, VA., October 24, (Special.)—The first of several events of a similar character, which rumor tells the Dispatch correspondent are to come off in the near future, took place to-night at the home of E.
